Life-Long Dreaming

Hi! I,m Yilia

I work mainly with computers for painting. I am more focused on experimenting with the light, shadows, and emotions created by computer painting. In my choice of subject matter, I am more concerned with the connection between people and society.

For this graduation exhibition, I have focused on two main aspects of the presentation. The first is my third-semester focus project, Life-long dreaming, in which I depict the different dreams of a Chinese girl that emerge from me throughout the stages of her life. It is a series of illustrations. Dreams are a reaction to one's inner desires and problems, and each image represents a different stage of our thinking.
